- The Great Fire of London started on Sunday 2nd September 1666 and ended on Thursday 6th September 1666.
- The fire started in a bakery on Pudding Lane.
- In 1666, the buildings in London were very close together and many were made of wood and had straw roofs which caused the fire to spread quickly.
- After the fire, many buildings were rebuilt. King Charles II ordered that buildings were built further apart and made of stone to make sure the fire could not happen again so easily.
